STATINTL

[REDACTED] has asked me to relay his thanks for [REDACTED] research aid CIA/CD #19 which was forwarded to us by your memo of 2 August. Interested personnel in this office have reviewed this work and feel that this method of cataloging [REDACTED] data covering a specific area of intelligence is a valuable innovation. However, since the true value of CIA/CD #19 can be measured only after we have completed our activities in connection with the Geneva conference, we would like to defer final evaluation until that time.
